

EKAMAI INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL

JOB VACANCY

Position Title:	Critical Reading and Writing Teacher (for High School)
Type of Appointment:	One Year Contract with 3 months probationary period
Desired Start Date:	November 19, 2024
Closing Date:	November 30, 2024

Job Overview:

The Critical Reading and Writing Teacher is responsible for fostering critical thinking, analytical reading, and effective writing skills among high school students. This role involves guiding students in interpreting complex literary texts, developing persuasive arguments, and honing their written communication. The teacher will create an engaging and supportive learning environment that inspires academic curiosity and intellectual growth.

Responsible to: High School Principal and Academic Principal

Responsibilities:

1. Instruction and Curriculum Delivery:
 - Teach critical reading and writing skills using a variety of literary and informational texts.
 - Develop lesson plans aligned with curriculum standards and school goals.
 - Utilize diverse teaching methods to meet the needs of students with varying learning styles.
2. Critical Thinking Development:
 - Encourage students to analyze texts critically, identify underlying themes, and evaluate arguments.
 - Facilitate discussions that promote inquiry, debate, and the exploration of ideas.
3. Writing Skills Development:
 - Guide students in crafting clear, well-organized, and persuasive essays and research papers.
 - Provide instruction on grammar, syntax, style, and editing techniques.
 - Offer constructive feedback to support student improvement.
4. Assessment and Evaluation:
 - Design and administer assessments to evaluate student understanding and progress.
 - Maintain accurate records of student performance and provide timely feedback.
5. Classroom Management:
 - Create a positive and inclusive classroom environment that supports learning.
 - Establish clear expectations and procedures to promote a respectful and focused atmosphere.
6. Collaboration and Communication:
 - Work closely with colleagues, administrators, and parents to support student success.
 - Participate in departmental meetings, professional development, and curriculum planning.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree in English, Education, or a related field (Master's preferred).
- Teaching certification or relevant credentials
- Previous experience in teaching reading and writing at the high school level is preferred.
- Strong cultural awareness and knowledge of Thailand's history, customs, and traditions.
- Proficiency in English.

Click apply from here:

<https://www.eis.ac.th/job-application-form/>